Harley-Davidson Lauded for Home Effort

Harley-Davidson was recognized last week for its employer-assisted housing program in Milwaukee.

With 13 other employers, Harley was cited by nonprofit Homes for Working Families, whose mission is advocating for homeownership for families with incomes 60% to 120% of the median in where they live.

Other employers can adopt winning ideas pioneered by Harley by going to the Homes for Working Families Web site and downloading its guidebook:
